Prospect Heights Police Department Recognized for Excellence in Policy Management and Training

PROSPECT HEIGHTS, IL, April 1, 2025 – Prospect Heights Police Department announced today that it has been recognized for excellence in policy management and training in 2024 by Lexipol, the leading provider of solutions that empower performance excellence in public safety.

The Lexipol Connect program tracks Prospect Heights Police Department performance on five metrics proven to measure success in policy management. The Prospect Heights Police Department achieved Gold, the highest level of recognition offered, for consistently disseminating effective policies to personnel, providing timely updates as laws change, and conducting officer training on policies.

“Strong policies and regular training are crucial for the success of law enforcement operations and our commitment to serving the community. Being acknowledged by Lexipol Connect underscores our commitment to ongoing improvement, professionalism, and safety,” says Chief of Police Milorad Derman.

The Prospect Heights Police Department’s excellence in policy and policy training enhances community safety by ensuring a consistent and effective response based on state and federal laws and nationally recognized best practices.
